MEET OUR INTERNS

Sarah Davis: The Summit

Sarah Davis is an upcoming senior at Taylor University pursuing a degree in journalism. She is from Detroit, Michigan and worked last summer in Nashville as the adult editorial intern for LifeWay Christian Resources. Leaning into the liberal arts at Taylor, she has learned from experiences with theatre, vocal performance, entrepreneurship competitions, and from jobs as a residential assistant and newspaper editor. Sarah is passionate about the small business community and believes storytelling and design are essential to get good ideas off the ground. Sarah hopes to use her skills in writing and leadership to work creatively with start-ups and entrepreneurs. She believes the best way to influence culture is to make more of it and hopes her career will be filled with exploring.

Tim Drew: Treasury & Finance

Tim Drew is a junior at Grace College studying accounting and entrepreneurial management. He plans on taking the CPA exam after college and entering public accounting. Tim grew up in Lafayette, Indiana. In his spare time, he enjoys running cross country and track for Grace. Tim began studying for his MBA this semester. He also volunteered for the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program this semester and hopes to be involved in tax work after graduation.

Cam Estep: For Profit Investing

Cameron (Cam) Estep is a senior at Grace College. He is working toward a degree in management of information systems with a minor in accounting while simultaneously earning a Master's in Business Administration. Cam grew up in the Warsaw/Columbia City area where he earned his A+ Certification and found a love for coffee. For the past two years, he has worked for MudLOVE as their IT manager, where he gained extremely valuable hands-on experience with management, business analysis, and programming.

Tim Fleming: Corporate University - ELITE

Timothy (Tim) Fleming is a junior at Taylor University. He is working toward a degree in political science, philosophy, and economics with a minor in legal studies. Tim is looking to pursue a future in the legal profession or in the business field, either forming, or working for, a start-up company. He is the point guard for the Taylor University men's basketball team and enjoys silly arguments about sports as well as life philosophies with his teammates.

Alex Hunter: Planning, Process, & Product

Alex Hunter is a sophomore at Taylor University working towards a double major in management and marketing with a minor in systems. Alex is the captain of the Taylor men's tennis team and holds a job on campus. Last summer, he worked at a local bank where he began to develop a profound interest in social entrepreneurship and micro-finance. This has led to many different opportunities, including interning in the Calling and Career Office at Taylor, helping to lead the entrepreneurship organization on campus, working on entrepreneurial ideas of his own, and participating in a Business as Missions trip to Honduras. Alex lives in Bluffton, Indiana, so you could say that he has been around the (literal) block a few times. Upon graduation, he hopes to move into a position that allows him to work his way up to being an account manager.

Laurel Jackson: Corporate University - ELITE

Laurel Jackson is a junior business/economics major and bible minor at Wheaton College in Illinois. Laurel is originally from Portland, Oregon but grew up overseas in Ljubljana, Slovenia where her parents served with Josiah Venture. Laurel has worked in the Black Hills of South Dakota the last two summers. She is currently a marketing and website design intern at the Center for Vocation and Career and a front of house employee at a small cafe near Wheaton. After graduation, Laurel is considering moving overseas or pursuing entrepreneurial business experience. She is also interested in outdoor education and is passionate about changing people's lives through experiential learning experiences.

Joseph Line: For Profit Optimizing

Joseph Line is a junior at Anderson University. He is majoring in accounting with a minor in finance. He hopes to find a job after graduation that will couple his outgoing personality with his love for numbers and accounting. He is from Goshen, Indiana. For the last few summers, he has worked in construction building pole barns. He has also worked with his father remodeling and doing wood working. During the school year, he works in the admission office and will be an apartment RA next year. He has also worked with the Student Athletic Advising Committee and the Anderson University Student Accounting Society.

Emma Lucas: Corporate University

Emma Lucas is a sophomore at Trine University. She is working towards a bachelor's degree with a dual major of English and communication, with a focus in new media. She is from the small town of Hamilton, Indiana. Emma has obtained intern experience at Trine through both the Humanities department and the athletics page doing journalistic-style work. During the school year, Emma is a member of the Trine women's volleyball team and Kappa Sigma Alpha. She also gives weekly tours to athletic recruits.

2016: For-Profit Employer of the Year
2015: Finalist

Katelyn Mantey: Treasury & Finance

Katelyn Mantey is a senior at Liberty University. After obtaining a degree in biology from Hope College and working in an orthopedic office for a year, she felt called to accounting and began studying at Liberty. Although she has lived in many areas including the West Coast and the South, she currently calls Chicago home. Throughout college, she has been involved in Dance Marathon, Relay for Life, and Student Congress, among others. In the months following graduation, she plans to study for the CPA exam and is looking forward to the opportunities in store.

Matt Miklas: Corporate University - ELITE

Matthew (Matt) Miklas is a junior at Cedarville University. He is working towards a double major in international business and finance and hopes to work in a finance role after graduation. He is from Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and yes, he lives right in the heart of Amish country. Last semester he studied abroad in Shanghai, China, taking business and language classes, and experiencing the uniqueness of the Chinese culture. Last summer he interned with Iron Mountains, LLC, a Chinese-owned marketing and product development company, where he gained valuable experience in the business world and learned a plethora of information about the product development and marketing sides of business. In his free time, Matt likes to hit the gym for a workout, play basketball, and read.

Our summer 2017 interns are from the following universities:

Alle Roley: People, Culture, & Brand

Alle Roley is a junior studying psychology, management, and Spanish at Anderson University. She is from Champaign, Illinois and is a proud fan of the Fighting Illini and the Cubs. She enjoys spending time with her family and friends and playing with her puppy. She keeps a faith and lifestyle blog at www.roleyalle.com which serves as a fun hobby, a way to develop her writing skills, and a path to grow in her relationship with God. She hopes to attend graduate school at the University of Illinois after graduating from Anderson. Her career goal is to be involved in human resource management at a large firm.

Carly Osinski: The Summit

Carly Osinski is a junior at Trine University in Angola, Indiana. She is working toward a bachelor's degree in marketing and a master's degree in business administration. At Trine, she plays on the women's soccer team, is president of her sorority, and is a member of multiple business organizations. Her family resides in Noblesville, Indiana where they love to spend time on Morse Reservoir boating, surfing, and kayaking together. After graduation, she is open to any opportunity that is presented to her. She would love to end up in the Indianapolis or Fort Wayne area but is open to living anywhere. She is passionate about helping others, traveling, and learning.

Kylie Ryan: Non Profit Investing

Kylie Ryan is a junior at Indiana Wesleyan University and is from Fort Wayne. She is studying marketing and strategic communications/public relations. Upon graduation, she hopes to do marketing or public relations for a company that gives back to the community. While in school, she is a desk worker at the Recreation and Wellness Center. Next year, she will be the business development manager at McConn Coffee Company on campus. She is an active member in her church, and in her spare time she enjoys taking photos, making art, and spending time with friends.

Andrew Rarick: Planning, Process, & Product

Andrew Rarick is a junior at Cedarville University and is earning his degree in business management with a focus in HR. Andrew is from Fort Wayne and loves the city. Last summer he worked for Unique Training Solutions, where he learned how to interact with customers and create a positive customer experience. During the school year, Andrew enjoys working with theatre on- and off-stage and he will be an assistant stage manager next fall. He hopes to find a job in Fort Wayne after graduation that allows him to leverage his abilities and serve his community.

Sarah Vahhoihniang: The Summit

Sarah Vahhoihniang is a junior at Cedarville University. She is majoring in business management and loves the people side of business. Sarah is passionate about forming relationships and wants to be a positive source of influence in the workforce. She desires to use her major to become a successful business woman for the Lord. Sarah is an international student from India. Upon graduation, Sarah hopes to find a stable career in the U.S. and provide a way for her little sister to get an education in the U.S. as well. Sarah enjoys photography, exploring new places, working out, and staying active.
